DISCUSSION & INSIGHTS

WEBINAR SUMMARY

Discussion will surround the power of altruism and being called to work in healthcare. This talk aims to inspire providers in finding again within themselves the reason they entered healthcare. It will introduce the concepts of compassion, listening, healing, humanity and “awe” in our daily lives and practices with an emphasis on ways providers can heal others while still maintaining their own sense of well-being.

ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Lisa MacLean, MD is the Chief Clinical Wellness Officer for the Henry Ford Medical Group where she develops programming to assist clinicians in optimizing healthy coping strategies, finding good life balance and delivering high quality health care. Prior to her appointment at Henry Ford Health in 2017, Dr. MacLean served as Associate Dean of Student Affairs and Career Development at Wayne State University School of Medicine. Previously, she worked at Henry Ford Hospital where she served as Psychiatry Residency Program Director, Chair of the Graduate Medical Education Committee, and Director of Education for the Psychiatry Department.
